CALL FOR PAPERS
INTERNATIONAL COURTS AND TRIBUNALS INTEREST GROUP
2019 WORKS-IN-PROGRESS CONFERENCE
January 25, 2019, Chicago, Illinois

The International Courts and Tribunals Interest Group (ICTIG) of the American Society of International Law (ASIL) is pleased to announce a call for papers. ICTIG will be holding a Works-in-Progress Conference at the John Marshall Law School in Chicago on Friday, January 25, 2019. We are accepting submissions on any topic related to international courts or tribunals.

Deadline and Submission

Please email an abstract (of 500 words or less) in Word or PDF format to co-chairs Stuart Ford and Celia Goldman at ictig@asil.org. The deadline to submit an abstract is December 24, 2018. Decisions will be made by January 1, 2019. If your paper is selected for presentation, please be prepared to submit a draft of your paper to the organizers at least one week in advance of the conference. We anticipate selecting between six and eight papers for presentation.

Works-in-Progress

"Work-in-progress" means scholarship that has reached a stage at which it is substantial enough to merit serious discussion and critique but that has not yet appeared in print (and can still be revised after the workshop, if it has already been accepted for publication.)

The Conference

The accepted papers will not be presented by their authors at the workshop. Rather, each paper will be introduced and discussed first by a commentator before opening the discussion to the other participants. Each of the participants is expected to have read and to be prepared to discuss all of the papers. Participants may also be asked to serve as the commentator for one of the papers. The author of each paper will be given an opportunity to respond and ask questions of their own at the end.

Travel and Accommodation

There will be no registration fee for the conference, but authors will be responsible for covering the cost of their own travel to and accommodations in Chicago. Lunch will be provided during the conference. In addition, a dinner will be arranged either the night before the conference or immediately after the conference, but participants will be expected to pay their own costs for dinner.
